Introduction

Aftershock is not just about design. It is about perfection, dedication and relationships. The crew is about “Curves with Nerves” and it should therefore not be surprising that our services delivers a dynamic language while adding some cheeky, yet charming female talent. Aftershock Crew

Hello, my name is Rosika

Im Aftershock's director.

I'll be the person you'll meet when you require a new website. I specialise in front-end design, branding and animation. I've spent some time abroad doing design and came back to SA itching to showcase what I had learned. Since 2003, I have been actively brand building by means of website development and my clients have come to see me as an extended part of their family.

I would say that my qualities definately lie in being a perfectionist - a pixel is a pixel! Some people speculate that I have no social life. Some people say I dont sleep. Some even say that they get emails from me at 3:00 in the morning. They would be right. Motto: Thanks, but I like it my way.

Hello, my name is Ian

Im an Aftershock's database developer.

I've got more than 10 years experience in databases and programming, so I make websites work. I have extensive knowledge of both Linux and Windows systems and a vast array of programming languages including ASP, PHP, Perl, Delphi, C++ and Visual Basic and I can find a solution for the biggest coding challenge.....seriously.

Rosika thinks that I might've been The Stig at one stage, but since my passion lies with fast bikes, that suspicion doesn't hold up too strongly. I generally have sleep deprivation and though I generally work 24 hours every day, I like to pretend that I sleep while hiding in my room digging into the latest Tom Clancy. I once figured out how to hack bank accounts, but I lost that piece of paper with the access codes. Motto: It can be done.

Hello, my name is Erhard

Im an Aftershock's database developer.

I have roughly 10 years of experience in databases and programming for projects of all shapes and sizes and for clients situated both locally and internationally. I like to write clean, well-engineered object oriented code and believe in re-useability. With excellent knowledge in ASP.NET (C#, VB.NET), PHP, C++, Delphi and Java (J2ME), I can help you configure your website to its fullest potential.

I was casted for the movie "The Incredibles" to play the part of Dash because I move that quick, but that was before they decided to make it a 3D movie. Just as well, because I really love my work and thoroughly enjoy what I do. Besides, how would I have looked in a tight red hero suit anyways? Motto: If you aren't proud of it, it isn't good enough.
